FILL-IN-THE-BLANK LOVE NOTE PROMPTS

We love romance, and it's easy to think that when your marriage is struggling or needs a boost a big romantic gesture will fix it. But more often than not, what makes a marriage awesome is the little things. The daily practices; the rhythms and routines we create as habits. It's the small things done over a consistent period of time that really make the difference in marriage.

Use these love note prompts to increase the daily sweetness in your marriage with a simple daily love note to your spouse. Simply print, fill out one a day and give one to your spouse each day for the next 30 days.

Small faithful things take time to sow and even more time to reap. You might not see the fruit of the little things right away but it's the little things that will build the foundation of an awesome marriage. Sow some small, faithful good things into your marriage with these Fill-In-The-Blank Love Notes.
